Charter Is Signed In Paris

Aid Plan Nations
Assure Efficient
Use of U.S. Cash

By Joseph E. Dynan

PARIS, April 16.—(AP)—Western Europe today bound itself to stand united in order to avoid falling into deeper poverty and war.

It did so in a 1,000-word charter signed in Paris. The charter created a "European organization of economic co-operation," designed to assure efficient use of the $5,000,000 the United States and pledged in the European recovery program.

The organization elected Paul Henri Spaak of Belgium as chairman and Jean Monnet of France as secretary. The charter named President Truman, among others, as the United States' executive committee. Robert Schuman of France was named secretary-general.

The charter was signed at a meeting of representatives of 16 Marshall-plan countries and occupied Western Germany, among them many German ministers. The meeting was called to order by Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain.

The preamble says, "A strong and prosperous Europe can contribute to the maintenance of peace."

The document names these contracting powers: Austria, Belgium, Britain, Denmark, France, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Norway, The Netherlands, Portugal, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and the French, British and American zones of Germany.

They agree to try to get back on their economic feet as quickly as possible in order to be able eventually to disengage any foreign aid of an exceptional character.

They promise to "augment their production, develop and modernize their industrial and agricultural resources, increase their exports, encourage their private enterprise, encourage mutual trade, encourage full employment of their manpower."

Amendment Asked Of Criminal Code

Attorney General Lucien Maynard, K.C., on Friday released copies of a letter sent to Hon. J. L. Bailey, Minister of Justice, on Feb. 25th in which the province sets forth its stand. No reply has yet been received to the submission, Mr. Maynard said.

Accompanying the letter was a copy of a Bulletin editorial dated Feb. 23, 1948, which supports Mr. Maynard's attitude.

Alberta's proposed amendment is directly opposite to the amendment to the same section of the Criminal Code (section 88B) now being discussed in the House of Commons. The official amendment proposed by the justice minister would eliminate charges of conspiracy to commit libel, being tried in any place other than the place where the newspaper or magazine is published.

The Crown made use of the "conspiracy" charge to bring John R. Cooke, publisher of New Liberty magazine, Harold Dingman, Ottawa writer for the magazine, and a writer from Ontario to face charges in Alberta court.

Based on White

The charges were based on an article, "Babies for Export," appearing under the name of Harold Dingman in the Dec. 27 issue of the magazine. Mr. Dingman obtained the material for his article from a report on the province food protests were voiced by the Canadian Daily Newsweek Association that the freedom of the press was threatened and the intent of the Criminal Code to permit trial for libel only at the place of publication was being frustrated.

U.S. Combat Forces Being Sent to Alaska

Further downstream, where the muddy flood waters crept into low-lying areas, more than 1,000 people fled to the Louisville, Ky., area, including New Albany and Jeffersonville, Ind., across the river, sought temporary quarters.

$100,000 Damage As Plant Burns

his first night, discovered the fire.

The pair made vain efforts to extinguish the blaze with hand extinguishers, but to no avail.

After flames ate their way into the elevator pent, an explosion occurred which split the elevator and allowed flames to shoot through the roof.

WIND FORTUNATE
Firemen, who are still at the scene of the fire, said it was fortunate the wind was from the south, otherwise residential areas for blocks around would have been in constant danger.

Fire Chief James Macgregor, answering the alarm shortly after 11:30 a.m., radioed a general alarm at 1:30 as he sped across the bridge to the south.

The grain elevator had a capacity of 30,000 bushels, and is believed to have been nearly full at the time of the fire.

A long row of warehouses to the south of the main building were untouched by the fire.

RECORDS SALVAGED
Office records, and equipment were salvaged by firemen and on-lookers who raced into the burning structure several times.

Stocks in the warehouses are believed to have been badly damaged by chemicals and smoke.

Firemen laid 11 lines of hose in the battle with the flames.

Highest points of the flames could not be reached, due to heavy pressure. The drop was attributed to the many lines of hose put into play.

Nearly 2,000 people gathered at the scene.

Best bird's-eye view of the blaze was obtained by the crew of a U.S. Air Force C-54 which was circling the city at the time. The big plane circled the blaze several times.

COVERED BY INSURANCE
Plant manager A. G. Kirstine, who was near the plant and saw the blaze would be covered by insurance, but could not give any definite opinion of the damage until he had contacted his headquarters in Calgary.

Mr. Kirstine, between directing salvage operations, found time to tell firemen, police and on-lookers, to welcome hot coffee throughout the several hour battle.

FATE OF MILLION MEN UNKNOWN

Hitler's War Not Over, Lost Legions Sought

Small advertisements in bold, crumpled lines at the corners of Germany's newspapers indicate that today, for hundreds of thousands of Germans, Hitler's war is not over.

The advertisements look so much like German scolding letters that they are apt to overlook them.

A typical one reads: "Comrades! Who knows of the whereabouts of Grenadier Hans Schulze, field post number 6603, last seen in East Prussia in 1947? Signed by his relative, his advertisement represents a last desperate attempt to trace one of Germany's estimated 1,000,000 missing soldiers."

Not confined to newspapers, such advertisements, crudely printed on pieces of cardboard, can be found everywhere, posted on trees or nailed to wooden fences.

In the repatriation camps, ragged prisoners of war from Russia daily gaze at thousands of notices, often accompanied by pictures, asking for news of a missing soldier.

Whenever a new batch of prisoners arrives, long rows of German women, gleaning each other for a prominent position, hold photographs high over their heads and try to catch the eyes of one of the repatriates.

The breakdown of communications during the last phase of the war, Allied bombings and the isolation of one theatre of war rendered the repatriation of casualties extremely difficult.

There is no doubt that the German high command, attempting to hide the losses suffered by their armies, listed an unusually high percentage of casualties as "missing," thus causing relatives to

Some 20,000,000 Italians are old enough to vote and it looks like just about all of them will vote. Lombardy's wealthy industrialists and Sicily's landed nobles, Milan's and Turin's factory hands, and Apulia's bristling fishermen, prosperous small farmers, bare-footed peasants, priests, clergymen, soldiers, sailors, clerics, and election travel over much of this ancient land of the Caesars, green and lovely in the early spring, these classes and thousands talked with hundreds of these people.

MOTIVATING REASON
Of them all, north and south, this question was asked: "What will make a man (or a woman) vote this way or that in your region?"

With a few exceptions, most of them in the north, they replied—and this was the state of the outside world. Internal economic and social questions, growing though they were, had been submerged in the tidal wave of international events.

Here are the major conclusions these correspondents, comparing notes, have reached:

1. Hundreds of thousands who three months ago were fence-sitters or Left-leaning will vote against Communism—enough to swing the Communist-controlled popular front an absolute majority in the new parliament, and may send it into a state of confusion.

2. The Communist Party, headed by Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats, the biggest single party or bloc.

(Footnote by McKnight: A northern vote for the Communists know how they must choose between freedom and dictatorship, Soviet Russia and the United States.)

3. The Communist Party, which has been in the north for some time, has been far away, the Left's simple line, "Vote for us and we'll give you the land," still packs plenty of political punch.

German Reds Launch Own Drive for 'Unity'

BERLIN, April 16.—(AP)—Russian-backed German Communists went over the heads of the Western powers today with a direct appeal to all Germans to join their plebiscite on German unification.

The office of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, said Thursday it had received no such notification.

The Communist broadcast was relayed by Western authorities as a direct appeal to the United States, Britain and France, who have barred the People's Council and its parent organization, the Communist "German People's Congress" from their occupation zones.

"We point out," radio Berlin quoted the council, "that under the occupying powers the hope of the German people for unity on restoration of the country's unification has been frustrated, and that Germany now stands in danger of permanent partition."

"The hour of national selfhelp has struck. All forces must join for the unification of the German people. It is a direct appeal to your deeds that the German people can overcome party differences, occupation area borders and religious differences to agree unanimously for Germany's unity."

Alberta Seeking Libel Law Change

amendment brought to the Commons by Mr. Isley was framed.

At that time Alberta's attorney-general wrote his letter of protest against the proposed amendment.

It is contended that, if his own, which would permit trial of alleged offenders in the place the paper was circulated.

In 1888 when section 88 was written into the act, Mr. Maynard pointed out, it was intended to protect editors of newspapers from being taken long distances under the primitive transportation conditions then existing.

METHODS IMPROVED
Since then methods of transportation and communication have so improved, that objection should no longer apply.

The growth of national magazines, and the fact that it is possible for a publication printed in Toronto to be a resident of British Columbia, but the B.C. citizen has no recourse to the courts of his province for redress. He would have to make a long trip to Ontario to bring those responsible for the libel to justice.

Mr. Laurier, later Sir Wilfrid, in discussing the proposed section 88 of the code, had suggested libel should be tried at the place where the libel was published, not necessarily at the place of publication.

Instances are given in Mr. Maynard's submission of possible cases involving such provinces as Prince

1,500 Emigrants Leaving Britain for Australia

LONDON, April 16.—(CP)—Friday 1,500 British emigrants sailed for Australia Thursday and Friday under the British free and assisted-passage schemes.

Thursday 116 emigrants left on the liner Stratheden from Tilbury and 1,370 others were on the liner Australia which sailed from Southampton Thursday night.

The Stratheden carries 979 passengers, many of whom are new settlers under the government emigration scheme. The total of new Australians on both ships will be nearly 2,000.

Next month more than 1,000 emigrants are leaving the United Kingdom on the Ormonde, another assisted-passage ship.

Two Hungarian Missions Expelled
FRANKFURT, April 16.—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, Thursday ordered two Hungarian missions to leave the American zone of Germany.

An official announcement said the missions were ousted in retaliation for the looting of an American reparations train by Soviet troops and officers on Hungarian territory on Jan. 29, 1948.

Britain to Spare Lives of Convicted Murderers

LONDON, April 16.—(Reuters)—Home Secretary 15th announced Friday that in view of the prospect of the law on the death penalty being amended during the present session of Parliament, death sentences during the interim period would be commuted by means of conditional pardon to sentences of penal servitude for life.

This was a sequel to the decision by a free vote of the Commons death penalty. He described that part of the bill as the "gangster charter."

Wednesday to suspend the death penalty in Britain for murder for an experimental period of five years.

TWO UNDER SENTENCE
Two men convicted of murder are at a moment under sentence of death. They are James Camb, a steward on the liner Durban Castle, sentenced for the murder of an actress, and a Gypsy, Joseph Smith, found guilty of the murder of a 17-year-old business man.

Mr. Camb said that he was told he was under sentence of death to show uncertainty as to whether the sentence would be carried out or would be indefensible.

Friday's debate was on the third and final reading of the criminal justice bill to which the new clause on the abolition of death penalty had been added.

Mr. Smith, a Conservative, said the opposition would not vote against the third reading because it supported the abolition of the bill.

But he, personally, was vehemently against abolition of the death penalty.

Mystery Dollar In Meat Probe

Committee Seeks Answer To Prices and Spreads

By William Wilson
OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—The special committee on prices Thursday turned its attention from butter to meat. It got under way with an invitation from H. A. Dyle, co-chairman, to solve the difficult problem of "where the customer's dollar goes."

Mr. Dyle gave members of the committee a mass of statistics as background. He invited them to do some "homework" on them. "You will perform a real service if you can show where the consumer's dollar goes," he said. "Most experts to whom I talked said they could not reach an answer."

"I have embarked on this exercise myself. I came to the conclusion that I was more than a little ambitious."

Mr. Dyle showed committee members an estimate he had made of the proportions that go to retailers as profits, to packers and wholesalers and finally to the producer. The average consumer has to pay 10 per cent more for meat than it costs the producer to raise.

When price ceilings were removed in 1947, a pound of top quality sirloin steak cost 35 cents. Today, it is 47 cents, a 35 per cent increase. On February of this year it was 45 cents.

Winning the last controlled price was 41 cents. The highest since then was 53 cents. The Winnipeg price dropped below the previous controlled price twice.

The statistics showed that in Montreal, where price ceilings were removed, sales were actually falling 10 per cent. In Toronto, they were actually rising 10 per cent.

WILL HARB WITNESSES
The committee will hear a series of witnesses drawn from the ranks of producers, packing companies and retailers.

The committee concluded its investigation into butter prices Thursday morning in a short session.

HE HAS NO SOCKS BUT "HAPPY FEET"

LONDON, April 16.—(CP)—They laughed when he sat down. Joseph Godber had no socks on. Noting the discreet coughs and the downcast faces yesterday at a women's Conservative club meeting which he was scheduled to address, Godber, a nursery farmer, rose and said good-humoredly:

"Sorry ladies! I should have worn them. I haven't worn socks since the clothes rationing started."

Later, after the shocked audience had filed out, Godber explained that he had started the "barefoot boy" act as a patriotic gesture when clothes rationing started in July, 1941. The first two weeks were "miserable," he said, but now he wouldn't wear socks if you paid him.

Godber took off his shoes and wiggled his toes joyfully.

"See these," he said. "They're happy feet."

U.S. Held Growing Honors Captured By Father and Son

MINNEAPOLIS, April 16.—(AP)—A Colorado father-son combination and a 26-year-old North Dakota farmer walked off Thursday with top United States wheat-growing honors.

W. A. Brown and his son, Norman, who together operate a 1,000-acre farm near Pierre, Colo., were designated as United States wheat king in a competition sponsored by a miller concern (Philadelphia) and Tom Rieder, 26-year-old Longdon, N.D. farmer, won the reserve championship.

The brothers took their title on a sample of hard red winter wheat with a test weight of 67.5 pounds a bushel. Rieder won his reserve title for a sample of durum wheat.

U.K. May Ask Compensation

LONDON, April 16.—(AP)—Britain will claim compensation for the destruction of a British airliner over Berlin if an inquiry proves the Russian pilot who crashed into the transport was at fault.

This was announced by the House of Lords yesterday by Lord Jowitt, lord chancellor. He accused Russian authorities of not wishing to establish the facts of the case.

The British transport, with 14 persons aboard, including two Americans, crashed April 5 after collision with a Russian fighter plane.

Lord Jowitt, referring to the Russian withdrawal from the inquiry, now on in Berlin, on grounds only now American witnesses should be heard, said:

"It would be ludicrous not to hear American witnesses. The United States has a direct interest in the case because American lives were lost."

An American soldier guard at Spandau prison, near the scene of the crash, told the inquiry yesterday that he saw the airliner crash almost head-on by the Russian fighter.

The name "tank" applied to tracked, armored military vehicles, was used to designate the true nature of the machine when it was built during the First World War.

Boy Slayer Appeal Denied By Court

WINNIPEG, April 16.—(CP)—The Manitoba Court of Appeal today denied an appeal by 23-year-old Michael Angelo Vespey of Port Arthur, scheduled to be hanged May 14 for the slaying of a nurse.

Defence counsel Harry Walsh said the decision would be carried to the Supreme Court in an effort to obtain a new trial. Vespey said he has a charge facing him of the slaying of 13-year-old Mary McGee, shot to death in January, 1946.

Title Bump into Money Barrier

LONDON, April 16.—(AP)—Billy Thompson, British and European lightweight boxing champion, has been offered a bout for the vacant Empire title in Canada, but is holding out for more money.

His manager, Henry Hanman, said Thursday that Premier Jack Allen has offered Thompson a June fight with the Canadian champion, Arthur King of Toronto.

"I replied that we were interested, but the terms were laughable," said Hanman.

He and Thompson are scheduled to leave for New York June 2 on the Queen Mary.

Sask. Insurance Men
Claim 'Threat' by Govt.

REGINA, April 16.—(CP)—Saskatchewan insurance men said yesterday they thought the government planned to cancel licences of private insurance agencies unless they insure company—but Provincial Secretary O. W. Valleau denied it.

The insurance men said the threat was implied in a letter the Saskatchewan government insurance office sent private agents last October.

Mr. Valleau, assistant in charge of the office, said the company did insist that its agents handle government insurance exclusively. But there was "no intention of arbitrarily reducing the number of insurance agents in the province."

MUST BE EXCLUSIVE

The letters were signed by J. A. Collier, acting superintendent for the government company. They said agencies would be given licenses only "if the applicant is either exclusive to begin with or will become exclusive within the first year of operation."

Exceptions would be made "if the applicant believes in the principle of social ownership of insurance."

They said that with some 200 companies selling insurance in the province, there were too many agents. The number could be reduced by having the superintendent of insurance refuse to grant their licenses or promote the sale of government insurance. "The point where the other 200 odd companies do not feel it worthwhile to have agencies representing them in all the many towns in Saskatchewan."

APPLICATION ANSWERED

Mr. Valleau said Mr. Collier's letter was an answer to an application for an agency by a salesman in a small town. The reference to reduction in the number of agencies was prompted by a complaint in a salesman's letter about granting of licenses to men who had "large interests elsewhere and only use insurance for a sideline."

Britain, U.S. May Clash Over Policy

American Aid Plan Demands May Cause Big Power Rift

LONDON, April 16.—(AP)—Rumors of an impending serious policy clash between the United States and Britain over European recovery aid mounted here last night.

Foreign Secretary Bevin left Paris for the organizational meeting of the 16 Marshall plan countries.

American press reports, published here, said a clash would arise over the United States demands for stringent guarantees against "leak" from Britain's share of the aid to non-European countries linked financially with the sterling bloc.

The Financial Times said such reports, unconfirmed, had claimed that even Britain's share of the European recovery plan was conditional on her accepting allied United States requirements.

The treasury denied there had been any such demands. Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, assured United States representatives that steps would be taken to prevent spreading American aid over the whole sterling area.

The treasuries of the two countries have no quarrel, the weekly New Statesman and Nation said, because the British treasury controls gold and dollar reserves for the whole sterling area and also the releases of pooled sterling balance funds and dollar reserves for the whole sterling area.

An injection of dollars in Britain obviously can help in "increasing worldwide trade," the magazine said.

It added that "American trade exports do not object."

HOLDING OPERATION
"But the defense department planners, who regard ERP purely as a holding operation which will provide a sound base for American action in a 'cold or hot' war in Europe, think it wasteful if dollars are used by Britain to finance other capital investment in its unrequired reports to non-European countries."

This policy split in Washington is matched in London where the British government's political departments are extremely anxious to avoid having British complaints in the Middle East weakened by American interference," the magazine said.

Wide Interest in Martell

Henry Martell's entry into the ranks of the professional golfers has aroused considerable interest, not only locally, but all over the west.

His attempts to make a success of his initial season at the Highlands Club will be followed closely.

Bruce Boreham, who recently was made a life member of the Manitoba Golf Association in recognition of many years of executive service, was talking about Martell's prospects in Winnipeg the other afternoon.

"We'll all be pulling for him to make good," he explained. "He had a great career as an amateur and now let's hope it pays off in more tangible form."

What he meant was you can't eat silver trophies and cutlery and shaver razors and the other gimmicks with which the home of a stand-out amateur athlete frequently becomes cluttered.

On another day, in Saskatoon, Walt Riddell, long-time sports editor of the Star-Phoenix, remarked that "Martell's entry into the professional ranks could mean much for golf all over western Canada."

Then he pointed out that Saskatchewan interests are exploring the possibilities of staging a worthwhile Open—say for a purse of $1,500. "Certainly we'll want Martell for this one," Riddell concluded.

He'll Do Okay, Says Leonard

Stan Leonard, unambiguously Canada's top shotmaker, is one who thinks Martell will do alright when it comes to teaching others to hold and swing a golf club correctly.

The coast star knows well what the expatriate is capable of doing on his own account. For instance in the 1945 Alberta Open played at the Highlands Martell was low man after 27 holes.

Leonard was assisted by Freddy Wood, Pat Fletcher and Pete Olynk.

All the Martells were—and are—professionals. He was in tough company during that tourney. But he outlasted the field.

The new pro at the Highlands was the Dominion top amateur in the U.S. He proved on an August 1946 tour that he was a Country Club by walking Vancouver's Ken Black by six in the Canadian Amateur.

That afternoon he heaped coils on Black's head by scoring a hole-in-one at the short hole. Martell has held the city and provincial amateur crown almost without interruption for several years.

"There's no doubting Martell's ability to play the game. Big question is 'Can he handle the pro life?'"

Off to Flying Start

In a sense he has had two strikes on the Highlands job right at the start. For many years Martell has been a member there. During this time he brought many honors to the club through his penchant for walking off with most of the amateur honors heabouts.

There isn't any reason, in fact, why the former Canadian amateur champ shouldn't take the Highlands by storm in the role of club professional.

He'll have to learn to enjoy 'baking hands' with everybody and anybody, to cater to the whims of the club members, to be patient and long suffering in the matter of lessons, to keep his own game up to snuff even though the opportunity for regular practice for walking off with most of the amateur honors heabouts.

But many an amateur will far less to suit Martell has thrown over his amateur status and made a real go of it as a professional.

If Henry Martell just remembers this he'll undoubtedly do himself plenty of good now that he has decided to strike out on his own.

And chess—not former underlings—should be directed the way of Reg Jennings' former underlings.

Louis Uses 2nd-Time Whammy on Walcott

NEW YORK, April 16.—(UPI)—Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott set up in the other alley Wednesday and there were indications that the former second-time-around whammy-able was at risk.

Four of them, Louis, were settled for once. After all, it's only money that men fight for. The fighters tried him again in a return match. All nine were carried.

The flashbuds were popping like summer lightning as Louis' powerful Walcott signed Walcott for their June 23 title fight. Walcott signed Walcott for their June 23 title fight. Walcott signed Walcott for their June 23 title fight.

Jersey Joe licked his lips, rapped his knuckles on the table nervously and smiled uncertainly. Old Bomber Joe sat there stoic and implacable until the cameramen asked him to smile and shake hands.

There is an old song about "smiles that make you happy," that wasn't the one Louis gave Walcott. It was a grimace which promised retribution for the man who made him look last last December.

Somewhat Walcott had the appearance of a condemned man. Not that he was badly hurt the first time for it was the champ who was on the deck twice, and not the challenger. But even with Louis missing, he had a taste of the force power which 21 times has defeated the heavyweight championship of the world.

Jersey Joe knows it won't be any picnic. And it is possible that he is beginning to think there must be some factor that makes a living than facing those tearing tan fists.

Many of Louis' friends in the record book provide nerve-jerking testimony. Four of them, Jersey Joe, must be particularly irritable. They would be Max Schmeling, Alvin Karpis, Bob Fatter and Nattie Brown.

Schmeling was the only man ever to receive a knockout, knocking out the then 22-year-old Louis in 12 rounds in their first meeting. Max later died of a heart attack in 1936.

Injury Jinx Hits Majors Before Leagues Rolling

NEW YORK, April 16.—(AP)—Major league managers, alarmed over the recent wave of injuries to key players, today are anxiously counting the days before the official opening of the baseball season. It can't start soon enough to please them.

At least one top-flight performer appears certain to be among the missing from the starting lineups when the National and American leagues get under way next Monday and Tuesday.

The injury jinx has hit the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, last year's World Series rivals, will make their 1948 bow minus their No. 1.

Yogi (Yogi) Berra, who was expected to handle the catching duties on opening day in Washington Monday, instead will be sidelined with a split hand, Gus Niarhos, young hopeful from New York City, will do the honors.

The Dodgers' World Series catcher, Bruce Kovacs, also will be out of the lineup, and the team will be replaced by young Gil Hodges.

Truman Expects To Be Re-Elected

President Jauntily States He Doesn't Scare Easily

By J. W. Davis

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—President Truman said jauntily yesterday that he doesn't scare easily and that he'll be in the White House four more years.

Thus he smiled off political troubles head-on in the south. He took a graver view of an international dispute over defence needs. He also expressed regret and surprise at the bloody revolt in the anti-American conference of Bogota, Colombia.

Truman said whether he shall be re-nominated is one of bitter controversy within the Democratic party.

N.Y. OPPOSITION
One spot where some Democrats are backing his nomination is New York City. A Henry A. Wallace man has won a normally strong Democratic district there. Two there has been sharp opposition from some New York Jewish groups in the administration's Palestine policy.

But Truman said that he'd talked politics this week with Edward J. Flynn, Democratic national committeeman from New York, and Paul Fitzpatrick, the party's state chairman, and they went away happy.

He was asked whether he regarded the Bogota events as a warning of the Communist danger in the hemisphere. Truman replied that State Secretary Marshall commended on that very well.

(Marshall blamed international Communism for the bloodshed.)

BACKS FORRESTAL
Truman supported Defence Secretary Forrestal on the matter of national defence. He said Forrestal's proposal for a balanced defence program among the army, navy and air force was one that the United States could stand and afford.

He was asked whether he was going to speak Air Secretary Stuart's suggestion for a new air force. The president promised to answer that later.

Rail Rates Defence Of Government Hit

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—M. J. Caldwell, CPC leader, said last night the government is using wages and railway amalgamation as "red herrings" in its defence of the 21-per-cent freight-rate boost.

In an address on a CBC free-time political broadcast, he said railway revenue must be dealt with in a manner "just and fair to the whole of Canada."

Mr. Caldwell said that the railways had some knowledge of the federal government's intention not to increase or to delay the coming into effect of the rate rise.

ISSUES OBSCURED
The government had tried to obscure the real issues by introducing the question of increased rates in relation to the wages of railway employees. It was on record, however, that increased wages would not be conditional on the rate rise.

"This, then, is a 'red herring' and neither wages nor the railways nor justice to the legitimate demands of labor should be dependent upon discrimination and injustice in freight rates across Canada."

The second "red herring" was railway amalgamation. "If the Canadian Pacific were publicly-owned, then it could be operated—and indeed it should—be operated—separately from the national railway system."

COMPETITION GOOD
"Competition in service would be beneficial to both of the national railway systems. Indeed, today under the Board of Transport Commissioners, effective competition between the railways has not been permitted."

Alaska Trade Urged For Canadian Ships

WASHINGTON, April 16.—(AP)—Governor Ernest Gruening of Alaska said Thursday that so far as Alaska is concerned the United States monopoly originating in Seattle.

The governor, legislator before a Senate commerce sub-committee, urged approval of legislation to permit Canadian vessels to serve inter-port passenger traffic in Alaska and carry mail and other merchandise from Canadian ports to Alaska.

He charged that Gilbert W. Skinner, president of the Alaska Steamship Company of Seattle, also runs the Northland Transportation Company, thereby monopolizing the service to the territory.

DENIES MONOPOLY
Skinner later denied his interests were a monopoly and said no other companies would risk going into the Alaska trade.

Gruening said one effect of the monopoly was the withdrawal of all advertising of the two lines from an Alaskan newspaper, which he did not name. He said it was done after the newspaper printed editorialists the companies did not like.

Gruening and Ralph Rivers, attorney-general of Alaska, testified that to grant Canada vessels the privilege of carrying inter-port passengers in Alaska would increase the territory's tourist business.

100 Original Pictures Donated for Auction

Proceeds From Museum Auction Sale
For Canadian Appeal For Children

Something different in auction sales will be presented at the Edmonton Museum of Arts April 27. More than 100 new pictures by leading Alberta artists will belong to Edmonton art lovers after that date.

Donated paintings will comprise the merchandise, all services will be voluntary and proceeds will go to the Canadian Appeal for Children.

The pictures will include sketches in pastels, oils, water colors, and tempera. Typical regional work, the landscapes will feature mountains and prairies. There will also be portraits and figure composition.

When the idea was conceived by the local branch of the Federation of Canadian Artists, art societies, schools clubs and local and provincial artists were contacted to see if they would be willing to donate pictures for this worthy cause.

Artists were more than anxious to help and as a result such well known names as Murray Macdonald, Jack Taylor, formerly of P.E.I., Gordon Sinclair, Margaret Chapelle, Neil Bradshaw, Ruth Haley, Caroline Kaufman and G. H. Hyde contributed.

Mrs. Glyde of the University of Alberta Fine Arts department and provincial chairman of the Federation, gave credit to Mrs. Chapelle, convener of the auction, and to Mrs. W. S. Kane, president of the women's association of the Museum of Arts, who have taken the project to their hearts and are doing their utmost to put it across.

Their plans include radio programs and exhibitions of some of the paintings in store.

A professional auctioneer is donating his services for the occasion. Pictures will be displayed the day before the sale when bids may be accepted. There will be no set prices on them although the artist can suggest a price.

An artist or two will be on hand with the auctioneer to comment on the pictures.

An added attraction will be a refreshment bar where coffee and doughnuts will be sold.

Members of the Edmonton Art Club, the Alberta Society of Artists and the Edmonton Sketch Club are contributing their work.

Some Children Just Shouldn't Drink Milk

By Myrtle Meyer Elford

We all know that milk is one of nature's finest foods and that it should be a part of the growing child's diet. But where you have admitted all of that, you must acknowledge also that milk is not well-borne by some persons and when it is not it acts as if it were a poison and not a food.

There are children, who, early in life, display a marked reaction toward milk. They drink it with reluctance and if forced to take more are made ill. It cannot be right to force any food on a child who is too young to be acting on any but a natural distaste.

No one can know, if there are no obvious symptoms, in just what way a food might upset the child who is forced to partake of it.

It seems to be more sensible to admit that we are not all alike, that some older proteins might be better accepted by the individual than milk, toward which he shows such marked distaste.

DEVELOP ECZEMA. There are individuals of sound bones and teeth who grew up with our milk but who later in life seem to be able to take it with impunity. But children when forced to drink milk develop eczema, asthma, chronic diarrhea or chronic constipation or merely vomit it.

In such cases the mother may experiment with the protein of other milks, besides cow's milk. Goat's milk is a splendid one to try and while some milk-sensitive children are unable to even take goat's milk it may prove to be a fine substitute for cow's milk.

It's your big chance to make money and captivate old ones. Friendship starts with a handshake and a gracious "How do you do" and the person you're meeting should feel that you are really pleased to shake his hand.

Make your grip warm and hearty. Don't push or give him the treatment either.

solid in most drug stores. It is also well utilized by the infant. If the child can go long enough without milk, a natural immunity may be built up which makes it possible for milk to be fed.

Sometimes the older child will accept milk in foods while spurning milk to drink. In the form of custard, junket, cottage cheese, milk gelatin and milk combined with eggs or vegetables or cheese the child can take milk without reaction.

The other usable protein foods are meat, fish, fowl and nuts, and these should be provided liberally when the child is unable or unwilling to drink his quota of milk.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Times Bestow Charm, Wisdom on Femininity

The person that women hate Time so bitterly because they believe that it robs them of all their good looks, but it bestows beauty quite as often as it takes it away. Nevertheless the one thing that women fear and dread more than anything else in the world is age. They consider that Time is their deadliest enemy.

Most women envy young girls. They need not. In reality, a young girl is a poor, defenceless little creature, with only one eye in the hole. Good looks. And if Nature fails to lavish upon her a peach-and-cream complexion, a willowy figure and naturally wavy hair, she is lost. Sunk she has nothing with which to cover up her defects. No artifice with which she can camouflage her lack of attractions.

Not so the middle-aged woman. She has a thousand resources at her command, and if she loses out on one she can cash in on another. Above all, she has acquired the skill in playing the game that only experience can give.

For to know how to live you must have lived. You must have learned to know other people and how to adjust yourself to them. You must have learned to be adaptable to circumstances.

You must have learned to give and take. You must have learned not to be overly puffed up by success, or too cast down by defeat.

AGE LENDS SERENITY.

No young girl can know these things, but they are the consolation prize that Time brings in its hands to a woman, and it is what gives the middle-aged woman her serenity, her tolerance, her philosophic viewpoint, and makes her a companion of whom you never weary, whereas you tire of a sweet young thing as soon as you have had a look look at her pretty face.

Then by the time a woman is middle-aged she can have made herself so interesting that her looks do not really matter. It is only after a woman has been through the vital experiences of life after she has known love and marriage and birth and death and struggle and strain and has laughed and cried and thought and tried to solve the meaning of things, that she has anything to say that is worth listening to.

Intelligence may not be a substitute for youth and beauty at first, but it is what makes her the long pull. As a matter of fact, we never think of a woman's age or looks so long as she keeps us entertained and amused.

When you hear it said that a man has forsaken his wife because she is old, it is generally a mistake. What he has really left her for is because she is dull and stupid and bored him to death.

And chief of all the good things that Time brings a woman is understanding. Sympathy. Knowledge of how to smooth other people's fur the right way. No young girl has that.

It is the treasure-house of years of living and when a woman has acquired that, then Time and experience have given her a shining far above any that youth possesses. If women would only have the wisdom to accept the gifts that Time brings them, they would come to know that the passing of the years are not to be looked upon with such dread.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The Penny Question Box

Here's how! Many readers have lately asked how to lighten the very fine hairs on the upper lip which give the impression of a moustache. If you will apply, several times a week, you will find that the hairs become much less noticeable. Let me prescribe dry on the face and become a little whiter then wash it off.

Q. "What can I do about the little pimples on my face which keep appearing? I am 13 years old."

A. At your age the little oil glands are extremely active. Wash your face at least three times daily with soap and water. Use no better. Cut out greasy, rich foods, banana splits and such and candy. Apply a nourishing lotion at night. Hermetics may cause a moulting skin.

Q. "Have very narrow eye brows. Just a line—none out of style? If so, what can I do because mine are very thin and uneven? Draw a dark line there barely show at all."

A. Do not draw a hard dark line. Instead, use an eyeliner pencil with little short strokes. Feathers make. Yes, the hard narrow line is out.

Q. "Can you make me really softer the neck? This seems far fetched to me."

A. If not only can but does. Poor posture allows the spine at the back of the neck to become crooked thus creating double hump. It also makes the muscles of the neck lax and can cause lines and a double chin. Do not rest yourself about it.

Q. "I always thought that sunlight was good for the hair but in the summertime my mother is always telling me to cover my head to protect my hair."

A. A certain amount of sun is good for hair health. However, the direct hot rays of the sun for long periods dry the hair and scalp and are not advised for pretty locks.

Q. "Someone has told me that vinegar, if applied every day, will remove moles. Is this true?"

A. Use this for any lines! Pattern 225 has transfer of 20 moles! Size to 4 1/2x7 1/2 inches.

Our improved pattern—visual with easy-to-use charts and photos—complete instructions—makes freckleless skin.

Send twenty-five cents in coin for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Edmonton Bulletin, Household Arts Dept., 60 Front Street, W. Toronto, 1-3. Ask "House" allow a week or 10 days for delivery.

A. I never heard of it, but I do know this, it is dangerous. If you wish to be rid of it see a skin specialist and let him remove it.

Q. "My bust measures 36 inches, my waist 26 inches and my hips 36 inches. I always have to let up dresses all over the hips. Is this my fault or do they just make dresses smaller over the hips than they used to? I like to see a woman with curves on her hips."

A. Sorry, but it is your fault, not the manufacturers'. You are out of line in that measurement. Why not take hip reducing exercise?

THE "BLUE BOOK" OF FAMOUS CANADIAN TRAINS

Serving all Canada

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS

Across the Dominion, even as you read this, thousands of travellers are speeding to their destinations on board trains of the Canadian National. Famous trains, such as The Continental Limited and The Ocean Limited, are spanning the distances from the Pacific and the Prairie Provinces to Eastern Canada and the Atlantic. The International Limited, The Inter-City Limited, The Washingtonian and The Montrealer, are typifying Canadian National's importance as an international carrier. Dependable "local" are performing the undramatic but essential job of serving the "in between" points, and providing branch line connections with the fast Express trains. These are the trains, covering more than two million miles each month; that make up the Railway "Blue Book" of Canada—The System Time Tables of the C.N.R. The "Blue Book" is your "passport" to everywhere in Canada, or across the border to your journey for business or pleasure, for an hour, a day, overnight or longer.

MARKET CONTINUES UPSWING

Prospect of Expansion

Spurs Aircraft Stocks

By The Canadian Press

Stock markets resumed their climb Thursday, ending side by side with the grain market at least as many ideas that they were in for a period of consolidation of recent gains.

New York's Associated Press Detroit composite was up 2 1/4, its sharpest gain since 1947 and a top since Oct. 1947.

Transfers were 1,650,000 shares among 1,000 issues. Some private stocks saw little action, but gains of one to two points were widespread.

Aluminum came into activity on the fact that the House of Representatives had passed 303 and sent to the Senate a bill which would provide $138,000,000 to start expansion of United States aircraft. Buying in general was attributed to prospects of government expansion. Some investors, however, were inclined to wait the result of the House action and more light on labor statistics.

In Toronto, base metals and stocks continued to lead the market, with the index rising 1 1/2 points and the index on the index rising 1 1/2 points since March 16 and the highest level since Jan. 14. Base metals gained 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points since March 16 and the highest level since Jan. 14 and at the close in more than a year—since Feb. 1947.

Western oils resumed their advance, adding 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 points since Monday's nine-year record.

Only gold was down, 50 cents since January 1947, but its low point in nearly five years—since July 1947.

In Montreal, industrials led the market, with the index rising 1 1/2 points since March 16 and the highest level since Jan. 14.

Grain Selling

Cost to Date

200 Million

OTTAWA, April 16.—(CP)—It has cost farmers more than $200,000,000 to get their grain marketed.

The government said in a return tabled in the Commons Thursday that the bill to last Feb. 28 had cost $203,377,000.

This includes $109,909,948 in marketing programs for wheat and $109,377,000 in freight assistance to 1953-54, inclusive, and $217,377,000 in the Crown wheat account.

Reductions of $11,254,000 brought this total down to a net loss of $192,123,000.
